Welcome

Dear Delegate,

We are thrilled to extend our warmest invitation to you for the Midterm CME of ISHNR, proudly organized in collaboration with Pramukhswami Medical College, Bhaikaka University, Karamsad, Anand to be held on April 19th, and 20th, 2025. This event promises an inspiring academic feast featuring eminent national speakers and a meticulously curated scientific program to enrich your professional journey.

Comprehensive boot camp sessions tailored to enhance your skills in diagnosing and managing Cross-sectional imaging of head and neck radiology, a dedicated intervention workshop and detailed demonstrations promising hands-on learning highlight this insightful convention. Besides, scientific oral paper presentations and Poster sessions will provide young minds and postgraduate students an excellent opportunity to showcase their innovative research, share their fresh insights, and engage with the veterans.

All of these would be hosted at the celebrated Milk Capital of India – Anand, a warm and cozy town surrounded by serene temples, the famous Amul dairy, and a delightful chocolate factory. Interestingly, you would be just a few minutes away from Karamsad – the hometown of the Iron Man of India “Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel”. His ancestral home, and the Memorial built to pay tribute to him, offer a fascinating glimpse into the life and legacy of one of India’s most influential leaders.

Your presence and proactive participation are crucial for the success of this CME. We are excited to welcome you to celebrate innovation and insights, foster enduring connections, and create lasting memories within our fraternity.
